INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS, MS

Program Director: Manuel G. Serapio, Jr.
E-mail: Manuel.Serapio@ucdenver.edu

Introduction

The MS in International Business program prepares students for international business-related careers in multinational companies, international entrepreneurial ventures, governmental organizations, international social enterprises, and other international organizations. The program provides students the knowledge, critical thinking, and skills to identify, create and seize international business opportunities, and to address the challenges and risks of doing business in a global economy.

Through foundational and specialized courses, action learning opportunities (case studies, international business projects, internships, consulting opportunities), mentorships, and study abroad trips, students learn about the dynamic international business environment, international business transactions and business functions, route to markets, technologies impacting globalization, global supply chain management, and other essential IB topics.

The University of Colorado Denver is the only Colorado university, and one of just 16 universities nationwide, granted the U.S. Department of Education's prestigious designation as a Center for International Business Education Research (http://www.ucdenver.edu/academics/internationalprograms/CIBER/Pages/IIB_CIBER.aspx) (CIBER), an honor earned in large part through the excellence of the international business program.

Program Requirements

The MS program in International Business requires the completion of the following:

Business Prerequisites

Advisors will evaluate transcripts for possible prerequisite waivers.

Students who choose to take courses for the degree that require prerequisites not previously met, may be required to take additional courses. Completion of prerequisite courses is in addition to the 30-hour MS in International Business degree. Meeting prerequisites is the responsibility of the student.
